

methods. Finally, it is proven that under some nominal assumptions, the presented approach is consistent in terms of model selection.

Jürgen Pilz and the Department of Statistics look forward to seeing you at the talk!

